

Labor Law Posters!!

The United States Government, South Carolina State Governments, and OSHA require that all employers post labor law regulations in a place very conspicuous for all employees to review. Usual places of posting are in break rooms, and places all employees are likely to pass through.

Our office is very pleased with the posters we purchased from the below company. The cost is around $80, which cover both Federal and state postings. In addition, any changes made within the year, they will send you new updates to post. You may purchase the posters form:
